12 til 3pm

To celebrate our continued success in setting the standards for excellence in community arts provision, the 12th of April will see Pedestrian open its doors to one and all for an afternoon of inspiring, innovative and engaging activities!

We are excited to be able to offer demonstrations and taster sessions in a host of exciting artforms, including:

Street Dance

Consistently pushing boundaries, street dance informs conventional and popular dance technique more than any other style. Our leading tutors will be demonstrating the newest and coolest moves to the latest and greatest songs and rhythms.

Turntablism

The exciting art of using records and turntables as musical instruments is as rewarding as it is creative. Encouraging expression without the constraints of traditional instruments, as a turntablist the entire history of recorded music is a tool at your fingertips!

Parkour

An artform with a truly engaging philosophy, parkour is the art of overcoming obstacles both literally and figuratively - physically and mentally. Our experts will show how to safely begin the journey in this new and invigorating art form.

Controllerism

One of the latest innovations in electronic music performance is the usage and customisation of various controllers to do what until very recently was impossible either outside of a recording studio or without the aid of six arms, live and direct!

Street Art

The instinct to create beauty within harsh urban cityscapes is the inspiration for some of the most stunning and provocative works of art you will ever encounter. Our tutors will show the techniques involved in creating safe, legal, and inspiring art.

We'd love to welcome you into our building at 34-38 Rutland Street for an afternoon of fun, games, showcases, food, drink - and a raft of ideas, resources, and inspirations. We will have local art and music exhibited and on sale, as well as our range of products, including tee shirts, records, slipmats and stickers. You'll be able to meet, greet, and share information with other arts professionals, providers and creatives, as well as talk to us about your ideas and plans for devising engaging activities for young people - and how we can help you achieve them.

We're happy to accommodate young people and would like to hear from you if you are a school leader and would like to bring a group along to experience the free activities. Please call us on 0116 262 7308 or email chris@pedestrian.info for more details.
